Flor y Canto | Saturday, October 28 at 1 - 4 pm
Local artist and educator Eleazar Caballero hosts this year’s gathering of poets and singers to celebrate the community tradition of Flor y Canto or Flower and Song. This year’s performers will present expressions from the traditional to the contemporary.

Cultural Festival with Hmong International Institute | Saturday, November 4
Save the Date! Join us for an afternoon of dancing, music, and other activities with the Hmong International Institute.

For the Young at Heart:
Preview of Hansel and Gretel | Sunday, November 19, 3 pm
Based on the fairy tale published by the brothers Grimm, Humperdinck’s opera Hansel and Gretel never fails to delight audiences young and old. Join Maestro Peter Jaffe for a preview of the Stockton Opera’s production, anticipating the fully staged performances on January 12 and 14. To be sung in English, this timeless tale of enchantment is rich with the melodies and warmth of the Romantic tradition—the story comes to life with charm and a smile. Maestro Jaffe brings musical examples, taking us through the historical background, plot, and musical elements of this beloved favorite. Questions are welcomed at the end of the hour.

2nd Saturdays for Families

THURSDAY, OCT 5 | 7 PM

Heritage Writers | The Heritage Writers Community will provide a rousing emersion into the feelings, sounds and emotions of America’s favorite pastime. Amidst the exhibit Baseball: America’s Game, writers will present words: some old and hallowed, some newly conceived. From yesteryear will come: Who’s on First and Casey at the Bat. Newly written will be a tribute to Roy “Campy” Campanella and the Boys of Summer. A little history will be sprinkled throughout. So, take me out to the ballgame!

THURSDAY, OCT 19 | 7 PM

Claudia Russell and Bruce Kaplan Duo | Russell and Kaplan traverse a wide Americana landscape driven by Claudia’s expressive voice and distinctive guitar style, with spot on accompaniment by Kaplan on mandolin and guitar. Russell has a knack for crafting tightly written songs that take you back to the sweet spots of life. In fact, American Songwriter magazine called their 2013 CD, All Our Luck Is Changing, “a masterpiece.” Russell has won numerous other accolades including Best Musician in the East Bay Express Reader’s Poll. Don’t miss this most entertaining duo deliver a heartfelt and humorous set of deeply engaging music.

THURSDAY, NOV 2 | 7 PM

Anita Fetsch Felix | Spend the evening listening to the beautiful sound of a perfectly paired violinist and pianist. Anita Fetsch Felix, violinist and former Stockton resident, will perform with Miles Graber, pianist of the San Francisco Conservatory in a program of works by Brahms, Prokofiev, Strauss and Gershwin.

THURSDAY, NOV 16 | 7 PM

Randy Sandoli | Randy Sandoli is a pianist, composer, Lecturer in Jazz Studies at the University of the Pacific and Assistant Director of the Brubeck Institute. He performs regularly in a variety of musical contexts while continuing to lead his own group, ranging in size from trio to sextet. His first musical influence and inspiration was his father, Tim Sandoli, who plays piano and guitar, and is a soulful singer-songwriter. In high school, Randy became fascinated with improvisation and delved into jazz and has since been influenced by a number of artists including Bill Evans, Keith Jarrett, Chick Corea, Robert Glasper, and Avishai Cohen(bassist). After deciding to study music in college, Randy obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree in jazz studies from Pacific’s Conservatory of Music and a Master of Music Degree with an emphasis in jazz performance from California State University, Sacramento.

Complimentary wine from Weibel Family Vineyards & Winery and snacks courtesy of the Junior Women’s Group will be available beginning at 6:30 pm every 1st & 3rd Thursday evening, when the Museum and Museum Store are open until 9 pm.
NEW MUSEUM STAFF

The Haggin Museum would like to introduce the newest member to our staff. Deborah Wise will serve as the Museum’s accountant. She has over twenty-five years of accounting experience and holds a Bachelors of Science in business administration from John F. Kennedy University.

“I’m thrilled for the opportunity to apply my knowledge and skills to an organization whose focus is to educate the public about art and history. Museums such as the Haggin provide a peaceful haven in an often chaotic world. It’s an honor to be joining the team,” explained Wise.

In her free time, Wise can often be found on the water paddling her stand-up paddleboard, or in the garden, where her passion for healthy eating is evident in the organic vegetables she grows year round.

American Impressionism
THE LURE OF THE ARTISTS’ COLONY
December 7, 2017 — March 4, 2018

A new exhibition at the Haggin Museum titled American Impressionism: The Lure of the Artists’ Colony opens December 7, 2017 and continues through March 4, 2018. This special exhibition, provided by the Reading Public Museum, gives visitors a unique look into the many approaches and styles of the American impressionism.

This collection of lyrical landscapes, ranging from snow-covered hills to sun-filled harbors and seascapes, penetrating portraits, and remarkable still life paintings documents an important moment in the history of American art. It includes more than 90 total works, including over 70 oil paintings and nearly 30 works on paper dating from the golden age of American Impressionism, the 1880s through the 1940s. A wide range of approaches to impressionism in the earliest twentieth century, including an abiding interest in capturing the effects of light and atmosphere in loosely brushed compositions, is explored.

Leading artists of the movement include William Merritt Chase, Childe Hassam, Ernest Lawson, Julian Alden Weir, John Twachtman, Chauncey Ryder, Frank W. Benson, William Paxton, Abbott Thayer, Guy Wiggins, Charles Webster Hawthorne, Colin Campbell Cooper, Daniel Garber and Edward Redfield, among others. In addition, American expatriate artists such as Mary Cassatt and John Singer Sargent will be examined.

The Mad Hatter’s Tea Party
The newly reimagined art galleries at the Haggin Museum will be open to the public on Saturday, October 14, 2017. The stunning new spaces, designed by internationally recognized design firm Gallagher & Associates, will house the Museum’s collection of late 19th to early 20th century American and European fine art which is comprised of works by Albert Bierstadt, William-Adolphe Bouguereau, Pierre-Auguste Renoir and more. A new, permanent space dedicated to 20th-century illustrator J.C. Leyendecker will include a rare, in-depth look into his personal life with over 30 original pieces of artwork by the artist.

Each gallery is designed to showcase the Haggin Museum’s core art collection in a new comprehensive way providing a more-connected learning experience for the visitor. Large introductory panels and contemporary labels, which include photographs, highlighting the well-articulated historical content, and guide museum-goers through the spaces. Interactive digital kiosks offer additional engagement for guests, and feature thematic stories that connect the Haggin family history with American and European history.

The American Art Gallery tells the story of the Haggin’s journey to California in the 1850s during the Gold Rush Era. As the family’s prosperity began to grow so did their collection of fine art. The American Art Gallery is separated into three major sections: View Masters, artists merging the European styles with American subject matter; The Hudson River School, trained artists exploring the undiscovered wilderness of the East Coast; Individualism, an artistic response to the social issues in America. As a whole, this collection of landscapes reflects the Haggin’s immersion in American culture of their time.

The Haggin’s European art collection fills the Haggin and McKee Galleries and highlights the many facets of the glittering world of Europe in the late 19th century. This collection contains a wide array of subject matter such as cityscapes, animal paintings, and even fantasy. It’s apparent that the Haggin family enjoyed the diversity of the art in Europe, as their collection ranges from the more conservative, classical styles to the innovative and experimental works.

“The six remodeled galleries coupled with the in-depth interpretation of our Haggin and Leyendecker art collections represent the most ambitious project in the museum’s 86-year history. These enhancements represent an investment that our Board of Trustees and staff believe will pay great dividends in terms of our visitors’ experience,” explained Tod Ruhstaller, CEO & Curator of History.
REVEALED!
OPENING NIGHT AT THE HAGGIN MUSEUM
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 6-9 PM

To celebrate the opening of the new galleries, the Haggin Museum will host an opening reception on Friday, October 13, 2017 beginning at 6 pm. At this ticketed event, visitors will be the first to see and experience the reimagined art galleries. Guests will enjoy wine and heavy hors d’oeuvres as they explore the new spaces. Tickets are $50 per guest. For more information contact Celia Castro at (209) 940-6316 or ccastro@hagginmuseum.org.

SEE ART IN A NEW LIGHT
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14

On Saturday, October 14, the Haggin Museum will be hosting a variety of family-friendly activities throughout the Museum from 1 – 3 pm. For more information contact Lindsey Munzel at (209) 940-6315 or lmunzel@hagginmuseum.org.

FREE DAYS
SATURDAY & SUNDAY, OCTOBER 14 - 15

As a gift to the community for their continued support, the Board of Trustees will be opening the museum free to the public October 14 & 15, 2017. We invite all to come to experience the Museum’s exciting new gallery spaces. Regular admission prices will resume Wednesday, October 18, 2017.

For more information visit hagginmuseum.org.

NEW VISITOR SERVICES

Coupled with the newly redesigned art spaces, the Haggin Museum’s Visitor Services Desk will be relocated to Hull Gallery. This new centralized location will serve as the Museum’s hub for visitor services, museum membership, and docent information.

New activity guides were created to spark imagination, creativity, and to foster connections with the history and art collections, and visitor maps were redesigned to be more user-friendly and interactive. These items will be made available in both digital and print formats so families can download a guide before their visits, or pick one up for free at the Visitor Services Desk.

J.C. LEYENDECKER

The Haggin Museum houses the largest public collection of original art works by the “Golden Age” illustrator, J.C. Leyendecker. For the first time, there will be a permanent gallery space displaying a large portion of the Museum’s extensive collection. The gallery will have more than 30 pieces of original artwork which includes paintings and sketches. Visitors will enjoy an intimate look into Leyendecker’s life with photos, letters, and other personal items.

RESTORE & REVIVE

Along with a more-connected and in-depth experience, the redesign of the art galleries will give visitors an opportunity to view artwork that has never been on public display. Two works that have been conserved and will be on view are Jean Beraud’s Scene Place de La Concorde, 1880 (right) and Eugene-Joseph Verboeckhoven’s King of the Heard, 1828 (below).

To get the paintings ready for display they were sent to Northern California Art Conservators to undergo professional deep cleaning and conservation. In addition to the work done by the conservators, our collections department worked closely with docent volunteers to restore many of the painting’s frames.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSEUM TRAVEL

STOCKTON CHINATOWN
A Historical and Cultural Experience
Saturday, October 21, 2017
8 am - 1:30 pm
$65 for members* | $100 for non-members

Learn about Stockton’s historic Chinatown! We will visit the bustling Crosstown Freeway Asian Farmer’s Market, described as a “destination farmer’s market,” by Sunset Magazine, and learn about a myriad of fresh Asian products. Then visit a Chinese deli to see how traditional Chinese specialties such as roast pig are made using age-old methods.

We’ll then cross the street to tour the historic Confucius Church of Stockton and Chinese Language School and enjoy tea and cookies during a two-part presentation: First, Dr. George Yagi, UOP professor, will describe Washington Street of the past, including food places—a take-off on Guy Fieri’s show, “Diners, Drive-ins and Dives,” if you will. Then enjoy a presentation by a talented local amateur cook on Chinese cooking.

Next, re-board the bus for a guided tour of the Stockton you never knew existed—vestiges of Stockton Chinatown within South and Central Stockton. Finally, conclude with an included authentic Cantonese-style luncheon at a local restaurant. Learn to use chopsticks and enjoy a course-by-course explanation of your meal.

NAPA FOOD & ART EXPERIENCE
Culinary Institute of America at Copia
The Hess Collection Winery & Art Museum
Thursday, November 2, 2017 | 7:45 am - 6 pm
$100 for members* | $135 for non-members

Located in downtown Napa is the newly renovated Culinary Institute of America at Copia. We will have the opportunity to tour this lovely site and its grounds, view a chef’s demonstration class at the Napa Valley Vintners Theater, shop in The Store at CIA Copia and enjoy a no-host lunch at the Restaurant at CIA Copia. There will be time to peruse the Oxbow Market where there are food vendors and shops all within a short walking distance.

In the afternoon, we will travel to The Hess Collection Winery and Art Museum in Mount Veeder Napa Valley, established by Donald Hess in 1978. At the winery, we will take a self-guided tour in the museum to view a collection of art from international and local artists. Take time to visit the gift shop, stroll through the beautiful winery and enjoy its lovely grounds.

JUNIOR WOMEN’S GROUP
FAMILY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Hosted by the Junior Women’s Group
Saturday, December 9, 2017 | 5 - 7:30 pm

Junior Women’s Group invites you to view the newly redesigned Haggin Museum art galleries with even more magical new lighting! Come December the Museum will have shining, shimmering, twinkling lights as we host the Family Christmas Party. This festive event began in 1979 and is a tradition for Museum members, their children, grandchildren, and even great grandchildren.

The ladies of JWG transform the museum into a Christmas wonderland complete with imaginatively decorated trees, sleighs, festive floral arrangements, and this year, of course, lights, lights, and more lights! Guests of all ages enjoy tasty treats and libations. Children are encouraged to join in activities just for them, including crafts and special activities with Santa’s Elves. The Big Guy himself, Santa Claus, is always available for visits. And a professional photographer from Gluskins will be taking Santa photos!

Advance reservations are a must. Adults $40 and children $15. Museum members should watch for their invitations via mail in November and reply promptly.

LADIES AUXILIARY TO CALIFORNIA PIONEERS

The Ladies Auxiliary to California Pioneers is pleased to announce that Elaine Ugarkovich is our new First Vice-President.

We will begin our 125th club year on Wednesday, October 4th at 12 pm with a luncheon at the Stockton Golf & Country Club. In keeping with tradition, Tod Ruhstaller will be our guest speaker.

Wednesday, November 1st will be a dessert meeting starting at 1 pm. We are delighted to have Mel Corren give a presentation about old time Stockton based on his book “I’ve Lived It, I’ve Loved It!: an anecdotal memoir.”

Guests are welcome to attend Mel Corren’s presentation. Please call Darlene Ferrario at (209) 952-4503 a week in advance if you plan on attending.

The Christmas Tea will be held on Wednesday, December 6th at 1 pm with a musical program of holiday tunes.
